SAN FRANCISCO COMMITTEE ON CRIME
300 Montgomery Street, Room 709
San Francisco, California 94109

The San Francisco Committee on Crime was created in 1968 by the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco. The Committee has received some funds from the City, but its primary funding has come from The Ford Foundation for the specific purpose of studying the agencies of criminal justice in San Francisco and making recommendations that will both strengthen law enforcement and improve the quality of justice.

This Directory is actually a by-product of a study of non-victim crime financed by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the Department of Justice. Its publication and distribution has been made possible by the generous donation of funds, material and services from the following local public spirited organizations:

Bank of America, Personnel Communications
Carpenter-Offut Paper Inc.
Coro Foundation
The San Francisco Foundation
Stark-Rath Printing & Publishing Company
Zellerbach Family Fund
Zellerbach Paper Company
Cover Design by Judy Bettman

We gratefully acknowledge their contribution.

PREFACE

This Directory is designed to provide doctors, educators, ministers, attorneys, probation officers, social workers, pharmacists, parents and others who are sometimes called upon to offer guidance to drug abusers with a ready reference manual of resources currently available in San Francisco. To the best of our knowledge, no such Directory has ever been available here before.

We have attempted to include every resource that now exists. It cannot be overemphasized that listing of an agency or service does not constitute an endorsement by the City and County of San Francisco, the San Francisco Committee on Crime, or by any of the foundations, organizations and businesses who have so generously contributed to make publication and distribution of this Directory possible. Because drug abuse and the misuse of dangerous substances generally results from an individual's misguided attempt to escape from or find a solution to more deep-seated problems, the counseling approach and treatment methods of a particular agency may find a response in some people, but not in others. The term "drug treatment" facilities is largely a misnomer. The primary "treatment" of many agencies listed here is not to provide medication, but to offer a sympathetic ear, let a person in trouble know that someone cares, and encourage and assist him in finding the particular professional and specialized help he may need.

As yet, no one has evaluated the effectiveness of these agencies. This Directory makes no attempt to do so.

The Committee is grateful to the Coro Foundation for assigning Richard W. Goldman, one of its Fellows, to work with us. This Directory is almost entirely his work.

Irving F. Reichert, Jr.,
Executive Director
San Francisco Committee on Crime

INTRODUCTION

This Directory is a product of my seven-week assignment from the Coro Foundation to the San Francisco Committee on Crime. As part of its study of non-victim crime, the Committee wanted to identify all drug clinics and treatment centers in San Francisco and the nature and extent of the services they offered. To our surprise, no list of available facilities existed. Countless people whom I interviewed in my assignment, urged that a directory such as this be prepared and this is the result. To the best of their knowledge and ours, no such directory has ever been available in San Francisco.

The information was obtained by personal interviews with key people in each agency. Later, we sent each agency a draft of the information we proposed to print and asked to verify its accuracy. The Directory is as up to date and accurate as possible. However, because policies, procedures, personnel, locations, etc. may change, anyone using it should check with the individual facility to make certain the information is still current.

Although I can pass no judgment on individual agencies, I would make these observations about the total drug treatment scene in San Francisco. The existing facilities are woefully inadequate to take care of the need. Effective and comprehensive drug programs must include a variety of services for the drug abuser, including medical and psychiatric treatment, counseling, and rehabilitation. Because of limited funds, most facilities in San Francisco--both public and private -- do not provide such a range of services, nor are they able to cope with the demand. By improving the services now offered, by coordinating the efforts of the various agencies, and by encouraging referrals from one facility to another, more effective treatment is possible. But there must also be a considerable expansion of facilities.

Now a brief word about the form of the listings. All addresses and telephone numbers, unless otherwise noted, are in San Francisco and none of the individual facilities limits the age, sex, or type of drug abuse of the person seeking help. Many facilities, especially the private hospitals and the community mental health clinics, have restrictions based on residency, which are noted in the section on "Eligibility." Where the usual headings such as "Staff," or "Other Services" are not used, it is because such information was either unavailable or inapplicable. As a general rule, police are not contacted by any of these facilities, although some public agencies might report heroin addicts.

STATE HOSPITALS

MENDOCINO STATE HOSPITAL
P.O. Box X
Talmage, California
(707) 462-3871 Ext. 324

Contact: David Velasco, Program Chief
I.H. Perkins, M.D., Medical Program Director
Donald M. Ford, Assistant Program Chief

Intake Hours: 24 hours

Eligibility: Six-day detoxification program open to all types of drug abusers who have been evaluated and referred from their County Mental Health Clinic. Admission for treatment is to be voluntary (emancipated minors may admit themselves for treatment, otherwise parents of minors are expected to support the voluntary admission policy). Admittees must have no court cases pending.

Programs: 1) Detoxification -- six-day methadone withdrawal program; 72 hours of decreasing doses of methadone, plus three additional days as an inpatient.

2) The "Family" program utilizes a myriad of techniques to bring about change in individuals such that they might within a short time (approximately one year) leave the protected environment of the Family stronger and more able to cope on the streets with the situations and pressures of our society that lead to drug abuse. These techniques include "The Game," a group technique where the person's flaws are magnified, recalled, shouted and cursed and where his successes are belittled, laughed at, scorned, etc., such that the individual is forced to take stock of himself and his actions. They also include Esalen institution techniques of friendly encounters which stress warm, loving communications with others. Where the games are to help individuals handle hostility (theirs and others), the encounters are seen as enabling the individual to come to grips with affection toward himself and others. Both are used to increase knowledge of the self and of others.

3) New program without time limit designed to accommodate those addicts who are not ready to undergo intense long-term programs. Program is geared to prepare the individual for realistic awareness of his or her drug dependent life style.

Other Services: Drug education project run by "graduates" from The Family who are requested by communities to provide educational panels to all student age groups, clubs, parent groups, professional groups, etc.

Rehabilitation: Vocational training, employment services and job training are integral parts of the long-term program.

Cost: According to California State Welfare Institutions Code.

SEE DISTRICT MAP ON BACK COVER.

Children and youth under 18 requiring psychiatric hospitalization, are served at St. Mary's Hospital from all districts.

Referrals: Patients may be referred by the Mental Health Center to other agencies of Community Mental Health Services, private agencies or state hospitals.

Cost: Ability to pay.

Note: The structure outlined below is very fluid as local mental health resources are being continually developed. Please call the Mental Health Center in your district for the most accurate and up to date information.

Procedures for patients against whom there are criminal charges:

- 1) Hospitalization by the Community Mental Health Centers is entirely under the Welfare & Institutions Code and does not include hospitalization under the Penal Code.
- 2) In practice, when after examination it appears a prisoner who has not yet been tried is in need of psychiatric inpatient care, the patient may be hospitalized on an inpatient unit of a Community Mental Health Center when the officers of the Court feel it is warranted to drop the criminal charges. It should be understood that in this case the nature and degree of security provisions, if any, will be determined by the nature of the illness and the treatment procedures under the W. & I. Code.
- 3) Where the criminal charges are of such a nature that dropping them is not warranted, the patient should be remanded to the Superior Court where psychiatrists employed by the Superior Court may, after an examination, recommend the patient be hospitalized in a state hospital under Section 1368 of the Penal Code. In urgent cases, this can be accomplished in less than twenty-four hours.
- 4) During 1971 Northeast Mental Health Center will be installing a psychiatric unit in the City Prison for the purposes of providing emergency care and evaluation as well as for expediting the above arrangements for psychiatric treatment under the Penal Code.

SAN FRANCISCO DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

CENTER FOR SPECIAL PROBLEMS
2107 Van Ness Avenue
San Francisco, California
558-4801

Contact: Staff person on duty.

Intake Hours: 9:00-11:00 a.m.; 2:00-4:00 p.m. weekdays arrive at 9:00 a.m. or 2:00 p.m. if possible.

Eligibility: Determined at initial screening; problems must be related specifically to drugs, alcohol, or sex.

Programs:

- 1) Outpatient drug-assisted withdrawal and treatment.
During and after withdrawal, individual psychotherapy, group counseling, and casework are utilized to decrease dependence on drugs and resolve personal problems related to drug abuse. Emphasis is on psychiatric treatment.
- 2) Outpatient methadone maintenance program. Treatment program for 100 "hard-core" heroin addicts which blocks the effects of heroin and allows the individual to resume less deviant life-styles. The program is to be expanded to 400 by July 1971 and 1,200 by July 1972. Methadone is dispensed daily; cooperation by the patient is confirmed by frequent urinalysis. The program includes individual and group psychotherapy. The waiting list is long, and no teenagers or "amateur" habits are permitted in the program.
- 3) Psychiatric therapy and assistance available for people using amphetamines, barbiturates, or LSD.

Staff: 10-12 doctors and psychiatrists; 12 social workers.

Cost: Ability to pay; methadone maintenance $10 per week.

"CRASH PAD" PROGRAM

Balboa High School	(Northeast MHC)
Wilson High School	(Bayview MHC)
Aptos Junior High School	(Sunset MHC)
Mission High School	(Mission MHC)

The "Crash Pad" Program is run by the Department of Public Health through the cooperation of the San Francisco School Department. It is staffed by the mental health clinics outlined above and by part-time social workers from the Center for Special Problems. The programs vary in each school according to its needs, but some of the services normally offered are: drug crisis intervention, individual and group counseling, consultation services for teachers and counselors, drug education programs for students and parents, therapy groups, and a place to go for conversation and relaxation. Referrals for medication and more intense care are made with the circumstances warrant such action.

If services are desired by other schools or groups, they can contact their Community Mental Health Service.

Present capacity 100 addicts. Screening done separately from Center for Special Problems. Counseling and referral services available.

Cost: Ability to pay.

Methadone Withdrawal Program

441-2221

Contact: Art Harper

Intake Hours: 8 a.m. - 11 p.m.

Experimental brief therapy. Methadone for withdrawal for one week. Option to continue in program for three additional weeks. Families accepted en toto. Freedom to come and go from the first day. Lectures and discussions in creative living available. Job and housing counseling. 17 beds available.

Cost: None; will accept Medi-Cal.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN FRANCISCO MEDICAL CENTER

LANGLEY-PORTER YOUTH DRUG UNIT

401 Parnassus Avenue

San Francisco, California

681-8080, Ext. 257, 260, or 201

Intake Hours: By appointment only.

Eligibility: Must be 14-25 years old, with current or previous experience with dangerous drugs (amphetamines, barbiturates, sedatives, hallucinogens, stimulants, LSD, or marijuana). No heroin addicts. Voluntary admissions only after screening by an Admission/Evaluation team. Some court referrals. Both sexes admitted. No acutely disturbed patients who require intense medical care or detoxification.

Program: Treatment based on a concept of a therapeutic community; average inpatient stay is two months. The main focus of therapy is in small and large groups, family therapy, occupational therapy, psychodrama, and seminars. The general philosophy is that there are options available to help free patients from drug dependence and to help them recognize the self-destructive nature of drug involvement. Use of videotape machines and other creative media is emphasized. No drugs may be used by a participant. There is constant reappraisal of progress by the Admission/Evaluation teams. Patients are free to leave the unit at any time, and they may be discharged if they do not accept the rules, conform to expectations, or are not motivated towards self-examination. Treatment emphasis is on the person and his problems, both individually and in relationship to others.

Other Services: Day patients may be accepted by the Admission/Evaluation team. There is also an after-care program for patients after discharge.

Rehabilitation: There is an educational program offering coursework and a vocational rehabilitation counselor to help with employment.

Staff: Professional staff, who undergo continual self-reappraisal.

Cost: Ability to pay.

Contact: Joel Fort, Director

Intake Hours: Noon - Midnight, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Saturdays.

Eligibility: Open to all.

Program: This is a facility designed to offer non-bureaucratic, socially-oriented help for a variety of emotional and social problems, including drug abuse and addiction. The emphasis will be on individualized service, a receptive staff attitude, and a willingness to innovate. Treatment methods include: evaluation detoxification, methadone maintenance, casework, brief therapy and crisis intervention, individual, group, and family counseling, psychodrama, role playing, sensitivity and encounter groups, hypnosis, behavior therapy, social and vocational rehabilitation.

Methadone maintenance program which is part of a larger program for rehabilitation. Withdrawal from program voluntary. Initially 250 addicts. Job counseling and family counseling.

Other Services: Training, education, information, publications, consultation, and research.

Staff: Professional and non-professional.

Treatment or referral for all general medical problems, many of which are drug-related. This service is often the initial therapeutic contact for people with drug problems. From 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. on weekdays, the medical clinic devotes itself solely to non-methadone detoxification.

- 3) Psychiatric Section*
409 Clayton Street
Contact: Stuart Loomis

One-to-one counseling is utilized to deal with any intermediate or long-term consequences of adverse drug reaction. Drug-dependent patients (on amphetamines, barbitubrates, or heroin) are referred to the drug treatment section.

HAIGHT-ASHBURY DRUG TREATMENT PROGRAM

Contact: Pat Bibout, Executive Director

Intake Hours: 10:00 a.m. - 10:00 p.m.

Eligibility: Open to all. Western Addition residents preferred.

Program: For patients who express a strong desire to remain in the area and not be institutionalized. The program, run on an outpatient basis, emphasizes personal contact with the staff and treats drug addiction as one element in the individual's broad web of personal, social, and family problems. Staff relies on developing respect and understanding for the individual and less on resolving pre-existing psychological conflicts. Such tools as group therapy, sensitivity groups, and encounter groups help the individual build a new self-image and reach his creative potential.

Staff: 1 doctor; 1 executive director; 1 program director; 5 counselors; 1 administrative assistant.

Cost: No charge to patients.

1) Live-In Youth Treatment: This program is set up as an alternative to incarceration, and operates as a half-way house for delinquent adolescents. It serves about 14 residents, both male and female.

2) Reality House West has begun a program to acquaint rehabilitation workers: policemen, parole officers, school teachers, and social workers with the skills and knowledge needed to combat drug abuse. An eight-week program is available for $200.00; inquire at 102 Baker Street, San Francisco, California.

(1750 O'Farrell)

1) Half-Way House: If after an initial stay at 1360 Fillmore, a resident decides he wants to continue in the program, he moves to permanent residency at 1750. This entails a two-month commitment and is where the real work is begun. Emphasis is placed on responsibility and mutual self-help.

Rehabilitation: Vocational training in skills, remedial education, and individual tutoring. Limited family counseling is available.

Staff: Professional and non-professional.

Cost: No charge for inpatient or outpatient services. If special costs arise, the staff will assist in obtaining the money. Special arrangements have to be made for 102 Baker.

SYNANON
1215 Clay Street
Oakland, California
444-3624

Contact: Wilbur Beckham

Intake Hours: 24 hours (if staff determines there is an emergency); otherwise, by appointment.

Eligibility: Open to all 16 years and older after intense screening by staff. The addict must convince Synanon to take him by demonstrating sufficient seriousness and motivation. Applicant must have no criminal charges pending. Those under 16 years must have a court order granting permission.

Program: Heroin addict withdraws "cold turkey." Amphetamine or barbiturate user chemically withdrawn by doctor.

The Synanon program is really a distinctive life-style, and must be understood as such. Members live in the Synanon house or other Synanon facilities indefinitely. It is a community that includes a large number of ex-users who have decided to abstain and to join together in a cooperative living situation. They live together, work together, and develop rules for interacting and treating the newcomer. The main rules are no drugs, no violence, and no secrets or lack of honest communication. The essence of the Synanon approach is a complex series of encounter games which deal with interpersonal hostility and aggression. The addict becomes involved in the therapeutic process through these group encounters and he becomes part of the solution rather than simply part of the problem.

Other Services: Synanon includes many people who were not drug users. There is also a large group of people who play the "games" on a non-residential basis at regular weekly periods.

Staff: Synanon includes professionals as residents.

Cost: Ability to pay.

San Francisco, California
421-8828 (Weekdays)*

Contact: Joseph Silver, Director

This organization does counseling and case work with inmates in the San Francisco County Jail (San Bruno). A professional social worker regularly visits the jail and talks with groups of inmates, many of whom have drug problems. Inmate counseling continues after their release from jail; individuals whose drug problems persist will be referred.

It also works with community agencies and organizations in an effort to improve jail programs and improve community services for released inmates.

THE OFF RAMP
1525 Waller Street
San Francisco, California 94117
673-6799

Contact: Howard A. Rochford, Jr., Executive Director

A counseling and crises services program providing early-stage interception and assistance for troubled or drug-using young adults.

Program: 1) The Family Room (1525 Waller Street): Open every night 7:00 p.m. - 12:00 midnight (Wednesdays 10:00 p.m. - 12:00 midnight). A drop-in rap center, open every night, designed to promote casual interaction between guests and staff and to encourage comfortable dialogues through which social or problem-oriented needs can be shared and resolved.

2) 673-6799: 24-hour emergency phone service.

3) Drug Education Task Force: An innovative, multi-media educational program combined with individualized assistance services to provide creative in- and after-class learning experiences which respond to the drug crisis needs of high school students, parents, teachers and other youth service professionals.

4) The Crisis Line (566-1050): A supportive service of the Drug Education Task Force providing anonymous contact with experienced, understanding "listeners" for callers with feelings or personal concerns they cannot begin to discuss and "piece together" except by phone.

5) Inpatient Service: An in-hospital visiting outreach of our staff and guests intended to serve the isolated young adult psychiatric patient: to reinforce his identity as a person, to offer him encouragement during therapy, and to provide dependable peer-group relationships which will ease his reinvovlement with the community after his discharge.

6) Community Education Services: While intervention is the primary goal of The Off Ramp program, we give high priority to crises prevention and regularly exchange our concerns and experiences with parents, professional and civic groups through seminars and speakers.

Staff: 15 professionals and non-professionals.

Cost: None.

RAP, INC.
Real Alternatives Program
1000 Guerrero Street
San Francisco, California
826-6474

Contact: Jim Queen

RAP is a community controlled program representing an effort by members of the Mission community to concern themselves with the problems of Mission youth by developing viable alternatives to detention for youths who are now or are likely to be on probation and by assisting the juvenile court in the guidance of juveniles that come in contact with it. At the time this catalogue goes to print, RAP is working together with members of other community organizations to create a drug abuse center for the Mission community.
